TO ST. LOUIS.

Capt. Oliver of the B. and O. Rail Road and W. Calvin Chase, Editor of THE BEE, are arranging a special excursion to the St. Louis Convention. Elsewhere in this paper you will see a list of those who are going. There will be one of the greatest conventions ever held in the history of the Republican party and those who want to take advantage of the special excursion should apply at once to Capt. Oliver or to W. Calvin Chase. There will be a special train from Baltimore to this city and to St. Louis.

A NOISY CROWD.

The disgraceful scene which occurred at the competitive drill on Monday night was enough to discuss everybody there.

The captains of neither could half give out their commands on account of the noisy and drunking mob that the officers were called upon to squelch. THE BEE is of the opinion that no more drills between the High School Cadets will occur hereafter in a hall. Let the drill take place in a public park where the crowd can yell as loud as possible.

THE BEST PAPER.

What some of our advertisers and subscribers say of THE BRE.

1st. THE BEE is the best edited paper in this country by Afro-Am-

2nd. It is the most fearless advocate and the most independent journal published.

3rd. It contains more live matter than any five papers in the United States edited by Afro-Americans.

4th. THE BER is an honest ad- people above the common level. vocate of men and principles.

5th. It is the organ of every representative organization in this

THE BEE reaches more people than all the other three weekly papers published.

It enters places where other Afro-American papers fear to tread.

ALLISON IS THE MAN.

(From The Jacksonville Advocate)

The WASHINGTON BEE, a bold and fearless exponent of rights and wrongs, doings and misdoings of the race, and an all around, whole soul publication, comes out broadcast for Hon. Wm. B. Allison of the St. Louis Convention is as the flag at our mast-head announces-Levi P. Morton ; but if all the good things the BEE Says of Allison, together with his historical sketch as it prints, be correct, suppose we don't object to the second place on the ticket for Allison, provided the BEE will not turn tail and sting.

AFRO-AMERICAN'S INGRATI-TUDE.

It seems to be the general charac teristics of Afro-Americans, the more their friends and benefactors do for them, the more ungrateful they are.

Some of them, if not a majority, appreciate more the stings, rebukes and ill-treatment from their enemies than they do fair treatment from the hands of those who are continually showing their gratitude. How can the race hope to be elevated? How can those who are continually appealing for justice, hope to obtain it, when those who are struggling against brutal treatment, are struck down by those hands the benefactors are fighting to uphold? We refer now to the brave John | man's case, the law is supplied.

Mitchell, Jr., of Richmond, Va., who has been battling for humanity for a number of years, is now being opposed, in his election for councilman, by those whose cause he is advocating.

The entire Southern Negro should come to his aid.

No man or set of men ; no church organizations will ever be to the Southern colored people what Mr. Mitchell is to the people who are oppressed in the South.

Shame! Shame! It is the cowardly hand of jealousy ; it is the deceptive mind of the knave and the assassins dagger pointed at the heart of the man, who has been appealing for equity for the colored man in the South.

Has it come to this? Is there no gratitude in the Afro-American? Let the true men and women of the State of Virginia demonstrate to our enemies that there is one spark of gratitude in the Afro-American.

H. Mahaney, P. G. C. of the Grand Lodge of this jurisdiction, the Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for this meeting, it falls to my lot it seems, to extend the hospitality and welcome greeting of Grand Lodge, No. 1, of the Lodges of this jurisdiction, to our homes, to our fire sides, and our family circle, to the Past Officers of the Supreme Lodge and the Supreme Representatives from the various Grand and Subordinate Lodges, who are now in our city, to take part in the proceedings of the 24th annual session of this Order, that will commence its work to-morrow morning, Tuesday, the 26th, at 10 o clock, a. m. and to members of the Order, who are here to witness the transactions of the business of the Order by this Lodge only. This wel-come comes to you also from Grand Lodge, No. 1, in the watch word of your organization, in love, in purity, and in truth, and to your dear friend who wear mark of distinction our Order; we feel honored by your, presence, and we trust that our pro ceedings, though simple, will be pleasure to you during your stay, as your presence is a pleasure to us to have you present, therefore my dear friends I bid you on behalf of the Su-preme Grand Sire and Grand Chief and many citizens welcome thrice. Welcome to our city, the Capitol of a great Nation. My dear hearers, you will, I am sure, receive a further wel-come by the Grand Sire, Grand Chief and other friends, who are present and will assure you in language more elo-quent than mine. Now Dear Brethren and Sisters of this Order in conclusion let me say to you now, as I have said to you on all occasions, look well to the regulations of your organization, keep in view the watch word, Love, Purity and Truth. If you remember Christ, Our Elder Brother, Son of the Living God. He said to his Deciples Love Ye one another. If you will do this your good work will go on Purity. Nothing that is unclean can come within truth. Firm as a rock thy truth must stand says the Lord of Host When rolling years shall cease to move, nothing stronger, nothing higher of Oasis in white.

GENERAL NEWS OF INTEREST.

The assemblages of the Methodist Conferences, the Presbyterian General Assemblages, the Baptist Annual Conventions, Congresses and Associatia-tions, the Woman Christian Temperance Union. the Young Men Christian Associations and the coming Conven-tion of the Christian Endeavors are attracting much attention now as the Congressional and the Presidential ampaigns are on. The Diocese of the Catholic and Episcopalian churches still seek new creations for their faith among Afro-Americans and the beautiful edifice of the St. Cyprian Church, 2nd and G Sts., S. E., both for appearance and impression show that their search has not been in vain.

The Palace Steamer, George Leary, with Mr. William H. Thomas, manager left her wharf last Friday evening with a large, interesting and fashionable crowd for Norfolk, Va. Every possible arrangement for navagable enjoy-ment were made and all passengers seemed happy.

The county elections throughout the day the 28th Inst., where it seems that the main issue in Alexandria county was the vote on a cite for the new County Court House, which resulted in the place of its location as the county of Alexandria, exclusive of the city, and which is being rapidly converted into a city, has about five hundred Afro-American voters, two-thirds of whom of whom are property owners and tax-payers. Of this number, about a hundred and fifty are resident citizens of Arlingtonville, a community of six hundred where two Baptist churches and a public school are lo-cated. All of these are tax-payers on property worth from $ 300 to $ 10,00.

The political leaders of Arlingtonville are United States Commissioner J. W. Wormley, Judge James H. Lane, Constable Isaac Green and Police Wm. H. Lomax. Knockville is another town of Afro-American citizens with about one hun-dred citizens and is located about two miles from Arlingtonville, and has one Methodist church and a public school. Four of the largest property owners in Arlingtonville are Harry Grange, John Offord, John Ward and Harrison Green. Mr. Louis Summerville of West Arlingtonville, paralyzed for three years, is again improving and about.

CHASE A KICKER? LET US REFLECT. (From The National Protest.) (From The National Protest.)

There is no man connected with the colored press of the country better known than W. Calvin Chase of the Washington Bee. He is known as the great "kicker," and he has made Washington a very uncomfortable place, for many of the negro leaders, who thought that the National Capitol could not exist without their important presence. Great improvement has been made in The Bee within the past year and its carrying more advertiseyear and its carrying more advertise-ments than any negro paper published. Two miles from Arlington Junction is Arlingtonville, the historic home of Afro-Americans where a station is desirable. THE BEE called on the General Manager of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Electric R. R. Company in the interest of the citizens of Arlington, Alexandria, Va., for a station at east Arlingtonville between the Columbia Pike station and Arlington Gate. The manager referred our representative to the Passenger agent Phillips, from whom the following information was at once received. Rochester, N. Y., in memory of the late Frederick Douglass. The Trustees of the Colored Schools, it is said, will designate a day in the Colored Schools for the purpose of taking up a collection for the monument.

It is hoped the trustees will not defeated in Rochester, N. Y., in memory of the late Frederick Douglass.

"It had been a day of triumph in Capua; Lentulus returning with victorious eagles, had amused the populace with the sports of the Amphitheatre to an extent hitherto unknown, etc. Spsrtacus rising in the midst of that grim assemblage, thus addressed them": You call me Chief; and well do you call him Chief, who for twelve long years have met upon the arena every shape of man or beast," etc.

While the Orator of the Day Rev. W.
B. Johnson, D. D., was pouring forth his eloquence of praise, the black oak was seated under a shaded tree, refusing to drink the flatterary of the scorpion who followed him around like the crawling snail. It was he who but a few weeks ago declared that the Barbacue was a political scheme to defeat Major McKinley, when it was only the expression of esteem in which Carson is wings of fear fully one-half of their ex-pected party. Nevertheless the whole program was carried out to the letter, was introduced and spoke as follows:

"Col. P. H. Carson was born January 16, 1835, at Baltimore, Md. He came to Washington in the early sixties. As a boy he early evidenced a disposition to espouse the cause of the unfortunate and helpless. Soon after selecting Washington as his home he located in North Washington, among the "contrabands." They were not long in discerning that he was in posbarring a few changes of hours for which the officers of the boat were alone responsible. After a delightful run down, the steamer made Fort Monroe and landed quite a number of the party. Proceeding to Norfolk they found the two local military organiza-tions drawn up to receive them under Captain Sheppard, and in five minutes after the boat was tied up they were on the march through Norfolk. During their absence the excursionists for Hampton went on board, and on their white man in the eye. In those days the masses of our people were not represented when the "fatted calf was killed," nor did they recieve an invi-tation to the feast. They were sorely in need of some one to husband their interests and stand forth to battle for the fullest and freest enjoyment of their rights. They were willing to stand loy-ally and valiantly to a standard-bearer but they must discover in him all the veritable down pour. The windows of heaven seemed opened, but the rain abated in time to take out quite a party for the run to the Capes, which was further augmented from Newport News and Old Point, and heartily enjoyed in spite of another afternoon shower that elements of true leadership. Carson immediately became their idol, inshri-ning himself in their best affections. They had battles to fight; battles against their manhood and the purity of their womanhood; battles waged on political and civil fields of strife, for honor, and for race, and Carson was placed in the front as leader, a position he holds to day because he has been loyal to their interests and has never hesitated to denounce and condemn drove them all indoors for about an reached home at 8.45 instead of 7.00 p. m. as arranged for. The whole trip was enjoyable from start to finish, and as promised, good order was preserved. The only incident occurring to mark the harmony of the whole trip was individual the best type of manhood. individual the best type of manhood, physical and otherwise. The smoke of conflict had just cleared away; the clash of arms and the tread of contending armies had been hushed while the white-winged dove of peace had built its next in the cannon's mouth. But this was only the precursor of a mightier struggle; a warfare, bitter and long which sought to give to all men, irrespective of color and creed, all the rights and privileges that follow the triumphs of liberty and law. How well Perry Carson wrought during those dark days the impartial historian alone will tall. alone will tell.

2,000 PEOPLE DO HONOR TO THE SABLE
KNIGHT.—DR. JOHNSON'S TRIBUTE.
THE GREAT IOWA SENATOR IN-

It was a masterly effort on the part of Dr. Johnson. The applause at its conclusion as deafening.

Rev. J. Anderson Taylor said that while he and Col. Carson had not been of one mind in the Chicago Convention years ago, when Carson advocated his life friend, James G. Blaine, and he advocated Chester A. Arthur, he had come to the Barbacue to honor his former opponent. He honored him because he was honest and true to the negro, in office and out. He loved him, he said, and admired him because he was a humanitarian and had no special class to represent. The humhe was a humanitarian and had no special class to represent. The humblest child, the humblest man, of our race can call him "my representative," he said. He has been a true friend to the race. He is a poor man. So were many honest men great in history. He was said to lack education. In one respect this might be true said the was said to lack education. In one respect this might be true, said the speaker; "but," he added, "I would rather have honest ignorance than intellectual rascality. Perry Carson is honest enough to represent you, and he is too ignorant to sell you out." This sentiment was greeted with vociferous applause.

EX-SENATOR ALLAIN.

Ex-State Senator T. T. Allain, of Chicago, formerly of Louisiana, followed. He said Perry Carson is not the leader of the colored people of the District of Columbia, but of Chicago, cisely at 4 o'clock. He said the occasion was a barbecue in honor of Col. Carson and the victory acheived by him in the last campaign. Mr. Knox Brown, the secretary, read letters of regret from Hon. D. B. Henderson, Senators Quay, and Gear, afterwhich Rev. W. B. Johnson,

Dr. G. Wellington Bryant, the silver tongued orator was the the next speaker. He carried the audience by storm. He stood erect and with the eloquence of a Demosthenes he extolled the virtues of Col. Carson and the esteem in which he is held by his people.

He said he and Carson had lain

He said he and Carson had lain together in the trenches before Pitts-burg, and their trenchment was far above any political affiliation. He said he and Perry differed as to the Presidential candidate, but that made no difference. He knew enough to get on the band wagon, no matter who might be nominated or elected. He referred with much gratification to the fact that he was the first negro to hold a political office in Balti-more. He had fought for the Ameri-can flag and for this country when he had no flag and no country, and he proposed to stay here. The Anglo-Saxon race, he said, had reached its est attainments of civilization.

Look at our women, 'they are the prettiest in the world You can only tell a white woman by her hair, while we can give you any thing from a royal purple to a lily white

The audience broke into a roar of applause. In eloquent language he pic-tured Carson stepping forth in triumphant glory, a heroic figure cut in ebony.

SENATOR ALLISON AND REED IN-DORSED.

The Committee on Resolutions through Mr. W. K. Brown, reported the following: The colored citizens of the District of Columbia assembled in mass convention, under the auspices of the Blaine invincibles, the oldest political club in the country, appeal to the St. Louis Convention to present as a candicate for President a man whose devotion to the cause of human liberty will be a guarantee that the colored race shall be protected in all their legal and political rights.

The name of such a man will be pre-sented in that convention—a man, who in 1867, at the close of the great struggle for the preservation of the Union, on the floor of the House of Representotives, declared in favor of according to the colored man equal political rights, without any restriction or qualifications as to property or education. The name of that candidate will be presented by a State that has never wavered in her loyalty to party or devotion to party principles.

Fremont, the first standard-bearer of the Republican party, received her electoral vote; Lincoln, whose name is an inspiration and whose fame is eternal; Grant, who fought more bat-ness and won more victories than any military chieftan of modern times; Hayes, eminent as a soldier and states man; Garfield, whose bravery on the field and eloquence in the forum electrified the nation; Blaine, through whose genus our commerce was expanded under the beneficent inspiration of that policy of reciprocity with which his name is inseparbly linked; Harri-son, brilliant, resolute, far-seeing statesman, each in turn received the electoral vote of that grand old State of Iowa, which will present to the St. Louis Conventian as one worthy of the highest honor of the republic, the name of the illustrious statesman, litical opinion tips its hat to honest Perry Carson. Men high in official life of both parties have honored him and do to-day.

I am safe in saying that no black man in this country can number as many confidential friends in the high councils of his party as Perry H. Carson.

Speaking of his Republicanism, he said his partisanship was like the granite of the mountains, and in this connection he recalled the memory of Lincoln, Grant, Harrison and Douglass. Carson, he said, stands for negro character, and he spoke of him as the grand old man and honest old Perry Carson. He pointed to his life

With these exceptions it would seem that none of our great interests can survive, certainly none can have a healthy existence." This forecast by the sagacious Senator is now deplorable
